Rocky Vista University to Offer Web-Based Housing Service

Rocky Vista University (RVU) has partnered with housing web site developer, Crew Innovations, Inc., to offer a housing list service that will be available to help RVU relocating students and staff find housing in Parker, the south Denver metropolitan area and Douglas County. This new service, called Real Estate With Honors (www.rvurealestatewithhonors.com) has launched in time to meet the influx of new students who will be looking for housing this spring and summer.

Real Estate With Honors will include a wide variety of property types, locations, price ranges and sizes. Housing options from all across Parker and the south Denver metro will be located on one web site dedicated to Rocky Vista University.

"Since RVU does not provide on campus student housing, we are excited to offer this service to help our students save time in their property search and make the overall process of finding housing less stressful," said Zea Moullet, Rocky Vista University Director of Student Services.

Moullet said the service also lets users inquire about listings, schedule showings and utilize 3D mapping tools to enhance their views of the listed properties. The Real Estate With Honors site which will be managed by Crew Innovations will also include educational information for first-time buyers and renters such as off-campus safety and crime prevention articles and a real estate education blog.

Real estate professionals, property managers, developers and individual owners who choose to be listed on the Real Estate With Honors site must first meet specific qualifications. Those who are accepted as participants will load and manage their own listings and pay an annual fee.

Crew Innovations specializes in developing and managing off-campus housing listing services for academic health science centers across the U.S. "Our goal is to help new students and staff be more successful by taking away some of the anxiety and hassle required to find housing in the local area," said David Nelson, president of Crew Innovations, Inc. "The online property displays will include photos, detailed descriptions of properties and their amenities and contact information."
